To Mr. Raymond E. Snipes, we dedicate this edition of THE CHALLENGER. Who inspired us to look for greater achievements in life, and whose delightful personality has won the love and admiration of the student body-we fondly dedicate this 1954 edition of THE CHALLENGER to our loyal teacher, Mr. Raymond E. Snipes. We hope that in this small way we may express our appreciation to him.

EDWIN TALTON

Ever a friend in work and play,
Doing the tasks that he faced each day
With simple quietness. He inspired
In his friends those traits admired,
Never complaining nor boasting the while.

Then untimely Death with chilling blast
Announced pathetic close to his hopes and cast
Long tragic shadows o'er the world he left
To enter fuller tasks beyond. And now bereft
Of Edwin's kindly friendship, we try to see
Not Death, but new life in God's Eternity.

This is the new Princeton school structure before Mr. Young, a past principal, set out trees and shrubbery on the school ground. The teacherage to the left is in the state of construction.

Princeton First Graduating Class - Mildred M. Wiggs, Thelma T. Daughtry, Raymond E. Snipes, Tempie H. Stallings, Eula B. Wellons.

This is one of the first graduating classes in the new structure. These senior girls and boys of yesterday have senior girls and boys of today.

This is Princeton's old school building which the first five graduates graduated from.

These are the faculty members of the old school building.
